

Press release –

Registration for CHALLENGEREGENSBURG starts at June 1st - more than 500 athletes pre-registered

Regensburg, May 28, 2015 - On June 1, 2015 the official start of registration for CHALLENGEREGENSBURG 2016 will kick-off. The interest towards the long-distance event in Bavaria, Germany, is already enormous. Several hundred athletes have pre-registered within the past four weeks. All looking forward to August 14th, 2016 when the starting signal will sound at Lake Guggenberger, the athletes will bike 180 kilometers through the beautiful landscape of district Regensburg and run a marathon in the heart of the World Heritage City of Regensburg. The finish in front of the impressive cathedral will surely be the highlight of the day.

International Star announced to race

It's not only the high number of pre-registrations that show the huge response to the announcement of CHALLENGEREGENSBURG.

The first on-course training sessions have also been a huge success. "On Whit-Monday, almost 100 athletes of all ages and levels joined to our guided tour over the bike course. This absolutely exceeded our expectations," said race organizer Tom Tajsich.

Even more reason to look forward to the race is the first announcement of an international star. The Australian Chris McCormack will be racing CHALLENGEREGENSBURG on August 14, 2016. "I've been to Regensburg many times and it's an absolutely stunning place to race" said the four-time World Champion. „I can't wait to get back there to enjoy the Bavarian hospitality and spectacular course.“

Official registration will start on 1 June 2015.

While pre-registered athletes will receive their personal link to the registration for CHALLENGEREGENSBURG via email will have their race entry guaranteed, the official registration for the race will start on June 1st 2015.
